FAQs regarding REB: What is Research?

Do I need REB review for my study?

All research involving humans or confidential patient information within UHN requires approval of the UHN REB prior to the initiation of a research project. Investigators from other institutions who wish to carry out research on UHN premises or with UHN patients or patient data must also apply to the UHN REB.

What counts as research?

The definition of research is outlined in the Tri-Council Policy Statement. In summary, research involving humans is considered to include any of the following:

- if the researcher will administer a drug, take a blood sample, do a test or perform any procedure, clinical, therapeutic, or otherwise, upon the person of himself/herself or someone else, for research rather than treatment
- if the researcher will ask people information whether by telephone, letter, survey, questionnaire or interview
- if the researcher will review information from patient charts (even their own patients' charts) for research rather than clinical purposes
- if the researcher will use material derived from people (tissue samples, blood, DNA)
- if the researcher will be using non-public records (e.g. not the telephone book) which contain identifying information about anyone either directly or indirectly
- if the researcher will use information previously gathered about anyone, even if anonymized (secondary data analysis)
- if the researcher will be observing anyone's responses or behaviour, either directly or indirectly

What does not count as research?

- Research involving only the use of published or publicly available information or materials
- Assessment activities such as quality assessment studies, performance reviews, or testing within normal educational requirements do not generally require REB review and approval

If you cannot determine whether an intended investigation constitutes research, contact the Chair of the REB or an Ethics Coordinator for assistance.

*Speak to Jennifer or Konika for guidance on how to navigate this process.
